

Dr Naeema Pasha

Future of Work, Equity & Skilling Expert

Naeema is a leading expert in future of work skills and transitions – including impact of AI, Diversity and Hybrid working. As Director of Future of Work, Diversity, and Careers in Henley Business School she led The Equity Effect research project on Race Equity in UK businesses. Her wider research and consulting also include tech adoption and changing workplaces, GenZ and Four-Day Week. Naeema has written and spoken extensively for publications such as BBC Worklife, Forbes and People Management Magazine on transformations in workplaces. She has co-authored the book Futureproof Your Career: How to Lead and Succeed in a Changing World addressing these key issues; diversity, technologies, and societal impacts, including the impact of the pandemic. She was named as one of the Ifpc-online Top 50 Worldwide Influencers on AI Ethics in and placed 11th in the Global Top Thinkers list by HR Magazine. She is also Principal Practitioner with the Association of Business Psychologists. Naeema is now an independent consultant working with leaders in meeting these challenges ahead more effectively.

LinkedIn: Dr Naeema Pasha